A LOVE STORY TOLD.

The Romance Brought Out in a Suit on a Life Insurance Policy

ON TRIAL IN THE COUNTY COURTS.

The Verdict in the Starr Railroad Case to be Known To-Day.

GENERAL NEWS FROM LEGAL QUARTERS

A suit on a life insurance policy has developed a romance. The case is on trial in the U. S. Circuit Court. It is that of C. H. Aiken, executor of A. O. Smith, against the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, to recover $10,000 on a policy of insurance on the life of Smith. The payment of the policy is contested on the ground that Smith committed suicide, which would render the policy void. From the witnesses heard yesterday it was learned that Smith, who was a resident of New Castle, was engaged to be married to a young lady named Jenkingen. The young lady broke the engagement and Smith became very despondent. He was heard to remark that he would never go out of the house until he was carried out. His words ere true, death coming on him suddenly. At the time the cause was attributed to an

At the time the cause was attributed to an overdose of some narcotic drug. Afterward it was ascertained that Smith's sister, at his request, had purchased nearly an ounce of prussic acid for him, he making some trivial excuse as to the use he wished to make of it. When this fact was learned his symptoms were found to have corresponded with those of a person who had taken such a drug. Electric batteries had been applied and all the known remedies for harcotic poisoning used, but they proved of no avail.

The witnesses examined yesterday were Doctors J. L. Cooper and Calvin Welsh, and J. C. Hutton, the druggist from whom the prussic acid was purchased by Miss Smith. Dr. Cooper testified that during one of the despondent moods of Smith he was attending him. He suggested that the young lady be asked to come to see him, and that perhaps that would revive him. Smith replied that it would be of no use to ask her; that she wouldn't come. He said that he had gone to her house, and saw through the window that she had company, and he knew that his case was hopeless.

Dr. Welsh testified to attending Smith, and Druggist Hutton as to the sale of the prussic The plaintiff will attempt to show that Smith

READY ON MONDAY.

The Great Electric Light Case to be Heard at That Time.

The counsel in the Westinghouse-Edison electric suit yesterday appeared before Judges McKennan and Acheson, in the United States Courts, and asked what date the case would be taken up. They were informed that the equity list, on which the case is, would be taken up as soon as the jury trails were ended. Judge McKennan, however, added that Justice Bradley, of the United States Supreme Cout, would be here next Monday, and the counsel had better prepare their arguments for that time, as it was desired that Justice Bradley sit with them on the case.

The Edison people allege that it was the Westinghouse attorney who tried to have the case postponed on Monday last. On the other hand, the Westinghouse people say it was not a direct request for a postponement.

SETTLED TO-DAY.

The Court Will Bear the Starr Verdict This Morning. Judge Magee, yesterday morning, charged the jury in the Starr murder trial. The charge was very fair, and some thought it rather favorable to the defendant. He stated that the offense was a misdemeanor and not a felony, and the jury had, therefore, the right to place the costs either on the defendant or the county. The jury then retired, but had not reached a verdict until court adjourned at 439. In case a verdict should be agreed upon during the night, it will not be made known until court opens this morning.

To-Day's Trial Lists.

NOT ALL SUNSHINE.

Some Non-Union Attorneys Express Views About the Coming Picnic.

On the Court House steps yesterday stood several attorneys. Without exception they had taken umbrage at the action of the County Bar Association at its last meeting in County Bar Association at its last meeting in declaring that persons who wised to take part in the next annual picnic must be voted for and elected to membership.

One of the legal fraternity seemed to voice the sentiment of the gathering thus: "I am favorably disposed toward the Bar Association, but I do not care to be drilled into it. The Bar Association is composed of about one-third of the members of the bar, and the action looks to me much like an attempt by the tail to wag the dog. I hope to be a member of the organization some day, but I don't want to be criven into it.

LATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

-The rush for the Sioux Reservation continues, and the excitement is daily growing greater. The prospects are that before 60 days the boom will equal, if not exceed, Oklahoma —William Kemmler, for the brutal murder of his sweetheart, Titlie Zigler, on March 29 last, at Buffalo, was yesterday morning sen-tenced to die by electricity within the week commencing June 24, at Auburn prison. This was the first sentence under the new law.

—The annual convention of the Order of Railroad Conductors opened at Denyer yester-day, the delegates representing all the leading railroads of the country. There is a larger at-tendance than at any previous convention. —Indiana's old State House is to be sold under the hammer. It was officially appraised yesterday, and its value was fixed at $50,000. Fifteen years ago the building cost the State that sum, and the real estate on which it stands is valued at $33,750.

—In the United States Supreme Court, yes-terday, the Chief Justice announced the allot-ment of Mr. Justice Harlan to the Sixth Circuit. The court adjourned until October next, after announcing a number of decisions, but none of general interest. The Merchants Exchange of St. Louis has opened a war on the bucket shops. At a meeting of the Board of Directors yesterday a resolution was adopted cutting them off from St. Louis quotations. It was also decided to formally request the Chicago Board of Trade to refuse them quotations.

-T. B. Fox, postmaster of Larkin, Minn., was found wandering aimlessly in the street at Syracuse, N. Y., with his little daughter. He is now at the station house. Fox has no knowledge how he came to be in Syracuse, except that he wandered from home during a

The historic piece of property in Elberon, N. J., known as the "Garfield Cottage," has been sold under the hammer to Mrs. McEvers Gosling, sister of Sir Back Cunard, of steamship fame, for $25,000. The Hotel Elberon and all its furniture was also bought by Mrs. Gosling for $50,000, subject to a $50,000 mortgage covering both the botel and cottage.

—John R. Langley, doing business in Boston under the style of Langley & Smith, has assigned for the benefit of creditors. The indebtedness will be less than $100,000 although no statement has yet been made. It is said that the assets are sufficient to pay a large dividend. The concern did a business of about $250,000 a year in the manufacture of shoes.

—At a joint meeting of the miners and operators of the Springfield, Ill., district yosterday, the existing differences were satisfactorly adjusted by the adoption of the following scale: From May II to October 1, 1889, 55 cents per ton; from October 1, 1889, to May 1, 1886, 60 cents per ton. In addition to this all the mines are to have a check weighman paid through the office and a seven-eighths screen.

Theophilo richeron, a Frenchman, arrived in Chicago yesterday from Lewiston, Idaho, and, in company with Robert Schlicker, took rooms at a hotel. Last evening Schlicker went to take a bath. When he returned Picheron was not in. What has become of him is a mystery. He had with him certificates of deposit for $5,000 and $500 in cash, besides a gold watch and chain and other articles of jewelry. Picheron could not speak English. He is about 60 years oid.

There is trouble with the accounts of J. E. Robinson, a partner with the Vermont Marble Company in a general merchandise store at Center Rutland. There were $84,000 worth of goods sold last year, and the company claims that there should be a profit of $15,000 to $20,000. Instead of a profit Robinson reports a loss of $150 on the year's business. The store is in the hands of a Sheriff, and a suit in chancery has been begun to dissolve the partnership. Concerning Silver.

> ASHION accords to the purchaser of Silver a choice of three varieties of exterior decoration: First, Engraving; secondly, "Repousse," or hammered work in high and low chasing; and lastly, Etching. There are an equal number of exterior finishes: first, the bright and burnished surface; secondly, a satin or frosted treatment; and thirdly, the so-called "butler's finish," which conveys the impression of age.

From these varieties in different combinations, the purchaser of Silver may choose, and the emphasis of society has clearly indicated the fitness of certain styles for certain uses.

Our stock illustrates fully and clearly the advance of artistic taste in this direction.
